Excerpt from The Western Hemisphere in the World of to-Morrow It was inconceivable that the American nations could escape their share of loss and suffering caused by the titanic clash of differing civilizations in Europe, and it is unthinkable that these nations are not to play a significant part in the reconstructed world of to-morrow. It is well worth our while at the present moment to look over our inheritance and our program. The material here broken up for the reader s convenience into short chapters was prepared and delivered as a lecture, under the auspices of the New York Peace Society, at AEolian Hall, New York, March 25, 1915.
