New Englands Rural Winter. Thanksgiving Day once more has come and gone - That day to all our nation great and dear, But in New England came whose earliest dawn, From night of persecution long and drear, That night oer foreign lands that hovered long, Its morning hours of peril oer the wave, Broke day at length upon a little throng, Who all its parts to God and freedom gave. That day again, like hundreds of the past, Has raised the heart in gratitude and praise; Once more our homes have made the yearly feast, And drawn their largest circle round the blaze: Dear ones have met in childhoods sacred place, Long severed from those darling scenes apart; The flush of youth once more has filled the face, And tender sighs and memries filled the heart.
