Noah Hunt Schenck, D. D., Rector, St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn; November 26th, 1868 What the Bishop of Ephesus, by inspiration, wrote to Gaius, Christ writes to the world full Of souls equally well beloved. And what Christ writes thus in behalf Of the soul's weal, I proffer as a word in season to the men and Women who make up this great Commonweal. I hail my country on this Thanksgiving Anniversary with the Gospel Salutation that she may prosper and be in health, even and only as her children prosper in personal holiness. This is God's guage Of individual welfare, and God forbid that we should offer the nation other standard than this. It is righteousness that exalteth a nation, - and we are ignorant of any other righteousness than that of Christ, imputed to or acquired by each separate soul. It is sin that is a reproach to any we know not of s'rn except as it has its spring in the heart, and its...
