Increasingly wary of her fathers genetic research, Rachel Kramer has determined that this trip with him to Germany in the summer of 1939 will be her last. But a cryptic letter from her estranged friend, begging Rachel for help, changes everything. Married to SS officer Gerhardt Schlick, Kristine sees the dark tides turning and fears her husband views their daughter, Amelie, deaf since birth, as a blight on his Aryan bloodline. Once courted by Schlick, Rachel knows he is as dangerous as the swastikas that hang like ebony spiders from every government building in Berlin. She fears her fathers files may hold answers about Hitlers plans for others, like Amelie, whom the regime deems unworthy of life. She risks searching his classified documents only to uncover shocking secrets about her own history and a family she has never known. Now hunted by the SS, Rachel turns to Jason Young a driven, disarming American journalist and unlikely ally who connects her to the resistance and to controversial theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer. Forced into hiding, Rachels every ideal is challenged as she and Jason walk a knives edge, risking their lives and asking others to do the same for those they barely know but come to love.
