Excerpt from The Hereafter, or Life on the Other Side It was at the close of the month of December that I was so suddenly called to this home across the dark river without a moment's warning of the sad fate I was to meet with. Leaving my lovely home so full of mirth, and anticipating a few hours of so much pleasure before the nightfall, and with a sweet boy-like smile, went on my way with other small friends, and in a few hours there came to my parents the sad news of their son's death. A sweet mother was stricken with terrible grief, almost never to be outlived and all life and joy shed almost forever. Yet ever by her side in life stood a dear and loving husband and father, to bear gently with her the sad, sad loss of her dearest hopes.
