How is it that we believe our creations to be our creator? During his last day as a carnie, Xavier is haunted by ravens that have made roost upon his trailer. Ignoring the omen of things to come, he overcomes a lightning strike, only to find his friends have been swept away in a powerful and sublime flood. As he struggles to understand his predicament, he is harangued by Chumba, his alter-ego, a Luchador who consumes his personality and forces him to do his vile bidding. Xavier's Airstream carries him to an undreamt destination. He had burned the book inside of himself. Welcome to the Tao of Xavier, and the Terror of Chumba, where all of life is a carnival, and wisdom and enlightenment are found in the most interesting of places. This book burning is presented in the genres of literary fiction and dark fantasy, examining the nature of competing Wills and higher rebellion, sacred geometry, numerology, black magic, neurolinguistic programming, trance induction, reason paralyzing language, conditioning, and hypnosis. Casually identifying the source of our...
