DC Library Press, United States, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In the early 60 s black life experience the trial of segregated racism, the manner of one being told he or she can t eat or drink from a certain restaurant or water fountain. Let alone live in a particular neighborhood that would create a much more stabled lifestyle. This was our civil rights era where many black lives were lost simply for the sake of being declared HUMAN. Some of our greatest black leaders were cut down like hogs in the bush, great leaders such Medgar Evers, Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr. and more. That Civil Rights era brought about some change in the community, change of opportunity, the opportunity of the 70 s. The 70 s brought about the retirement stage in which the baby boomers of today took sharp advantage of, being able to retire and become the human being that the civil rights dispensation so much had to die for. An era that brought more love songs of despair, pain and having to defeat the mind set of racism that became a stronghold in many black family lives and sought to destroy the will power of knowing who they are in GOD. And that was the 70 s. The 80 s came in roaring with get down happy times of jubilee of dance hall music, where the black community began the hustle man trade of drugs and alcohol which became the black man s choice of a stress reliever, along with his entrepreneur skills in selling drugs. In other words another level of opportunity came with the excitement of that jubilee era the Drug Dealer which emerged stronger than ever before. The choice of drug for...
