

Conception des Ambiances urbaines de qualité : La végétation pour une perception plus raffinée des espaces publics en climat semi-aride (Paperback)

By Samira Louafi, Saliha Abdou, Sigrid Reiter

Editions universitaires européennes EUE, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Aufl.. Language: French . Brand New Book. Les « ambiances » constituent un domaine éminemment complexe, constitué des interactions que l'utilisateur perçoit entre les phénomènes physiques et les formes de l'environnement construit. La qualité d'ambiance d'un lieu se traduit pour l'occupant en termes de sensation de confort. Créer des ambiances urbaines de qualité, assurer le confort des citoyens est un des enjeux fondamentaux du développement durable des villes. Le climat a toujours été considéré comme un des éléments majeurs de la dynamique et de l'ambiance d'une ville. La végétation implantée en milieu urbain modifie les ambiances physiques (lumière, chaleur, vent, son, humidité.). Le but est de mettre en évidence l'impact de la présence de la végétation sur l'utilisation de l'espace public extérieur en été et sur les comportements des usagers, ainsi que sur la variation des paramètres climatiques cas de la ville de Constantine (Algérie) à climat semi-aride. La méthode expérimentale a fait appel aux techniques d'enquêtes, d'observations, de mesures in situ et de modélisation. La présence de la végétation a un effet positif pour la qualification de l'ambiance thermique et visuelle de l'espace public pour ce type de climat.
