

Who We Be: A Cultural History of Race in Post-Civil Rights America

By Jeff Chang

Picador. Paperback. Condition: New. 416 pages. Dimensions: 0.0in. x 0.0in. x 0.0in. Race. A four-letter word. The greatest social divide in American life, a half-century ago and today. During that time, the U. S. has seen the most dramatic demographic and cultural shifts in its history, what can be called the colorization of America. But the same nation that elected its first Black president on a wave of hope--another four-letter word--is still plunged into endless culture wars. How do Americans see race now How has that changed--and not changed--over the half-century After eras framed by words like multicultural and post-racial, do we see each other any more clearly Who We Be remixes comic strips and contemporary art, campus protests and corporate marketing campaigns, Martin Luther King, Jr. and Trayvon Martin into a powerful, unusual, and timely cultural history of the idea of racial progress. In this follow-up to the award-winning classic Cant Stop Wont Stop: A History of the Hip-Hop Generation, Jeff Chang brings fresh energy, style, and sweep to the essential American story.
