Excerpt: . . . made the latter his vendee, and the note Hardeman gave Holman, for the purchase money, gave him a lien on the land for its payment against Hardeman or any one claiming under him who purchased with notice that the debt was unpaid. Holman, in his original bill, avers that Brewer had notice that his debt was unpaid at the time of his purchase and at the time of bringing suit. If this fact be true, the original decree in favor of Holman was right, if Brewer was served with process. But as Patterson does not aver to the contrary, that part on the demurrer to his bill should have been taken as true. The facts which he set up in his bill as the ground for review, that the note to Holman was not recorded and that himself and Noonan had no notice of the suit, were not sufficient grounds to review. From the allegations of Holmans bill, he was entitled to a decree, even if he had no note for the purchase money, and Noonan and Patterson having purchased, pending the suit, are bound by it as fully as if they had been parties. The decree was not void on its face, and the new facts alleged in Pattersons bill were not sufficient in law. . Therefore the court erred in overruling Holinans demurrer. For this error the decree of the J etferson circuit court is reversed, and the cause is remanded to...
