

Ape Mind, Old Mind, New Mind: Emotional Fossils and the Evolution of the Human Spirit (Paperback)

By John Wylie

BookBaby, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. HUMAN NATURE DESCENDS FROM THE STRUGGLE FOR FITNESS. This view of man was born in October 1838, when Charles Darwin read Thomas Malthus's treatise on the perils of overpopulation upon which he framed his theory of natural selection as the survival of the fittest. When Darwin turned his attention to the evolution of humans in The Descent of Man, and Selection in Relation to Sex, he introduced the crucial role of sexual selection. Ape Mind, Old Mind, New Mind: Emotional Fossils and the Evolution of the Human Spirit reinterprets the known facts about human evolution in light of Darwin's other evolutionary mechanism. The remarkable aspect of Darwin's evolution by sexual selection is that it is driven merely by the desire for a trait—in this case, the desire for justice. What gave sexual selection the creative power to launch and then sustain our hominin tribe was, and still is, the additive effect of both the desire for justice and the desire to be just, both passed down together tightly engaged in the pioneering of rightness and wrongness. Author John Wylie, M.D. focuses on the role of natural selection...
