Hugh Walpole - The Prelude to Adventure: I Almost Think There Is No Wisdom Comparable to That of Exchanging What Is Called the Realities of Life for Dreams. (Paperback)

By Hugh Walpole

Horse s Mouth, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Sir Hugh Seymour Walpole, CBE was born in Auckland, New Zealand, on March 13th, 1884. His parents had moved to New Zealand in 1877, but his mother, Mildred, unable to settle there, eventually persuaded her husband, Somerset, an Anglican clergyman, to accept another post, this time in New York in 1889. Walpole s early years involved being educated by a Governess until, in 1893, his parents decided he needed an English education and the young Walpole was sent to England. He first attended a preparatory school in Truro. He naturally missed his family but was reasonably happy. A move to Sir William Borlase s Grammar School in Marlow in 1895, found him bullied, frightened and miserable. The following year, 1897, the Walpole s returned to England and Walpole was moved to be a day boy at Durham School. His sense of isolation increased. His refuge was the local library and reading. From 1903 to 1906 Walpole studied history at Emmanuel College, Cambridge and there, in 1905, had his first work published, the critical essay Two Meredithian Heroes. Walpole was also...
